ho Do Incidents Really Impact?

Many have heard the story of Chad Hymas as he has shared his safety message with audiences around the world. Yet how many have heard the flip side of the story, the story of the impact his accident had on his wife and children?

The sun had gone down, and there was no sign of life out in the hay fields of the Hymas elk ranch, the evening of April 3, 2001. Shondell's husband, Chad, had not returned from feeding the herd. Something wasn't right. Shondell would soon realize that her and her children's lives would never be the same again.

Accidents happen everywhere, even at home, impacting family life and the ones that we care about the most. It's often because we're in a hurry, taking shortcuts, that result in tragedies on and off the job. Shondell Hymas has come face to face with a shortcut. She tells the story of that tragic night on the ranch, and shares a spouse's unique perspective on the accident. It's The Flip Side of the Story.
