SPOTLIGHT QUESTIONNAIRE

MEET YOUR NDSC SAFETY TRAINING EXPERTS

Andrea Jensen, CSP

Andrea brings almost 20 years of EHS experience across the transportation, manufacturing, and construction industries. Her advanced education and real-world leadership experience help organizations strengthen safety from the front line to the executive level.

"Andrea did a wonderful job. She was able to keep it light and comfortable but still able to portray how serious the topic is and can be."

19 YEARS
experience in safety

Don Moseman

Don draws on decades of military, law enforcement, and instructional experience to deliver powerful, practical training. He is a leading expert in violence prevention, traffic safety, emergency planning and supervisor-level safety programs.

"The instructor was excellent. He had a much different presentation than we have had before. It kept our attention all the way through."

38 YEARS
experience in safety

Dennis Snodgrass

Dennis brings extensive leadership experience from law enforcement and the safety and oil and gas industries. His expertise includes training, safety audits, incident investigations, policy development and traffic safety.

"Multiple guys came up and said 'wow', they were blown away. I knew he was going to have a message, but I didn't see that coming."

20 YEARS
experience in safety

Aglae Young

Aglae has more than 20 years of experience delivering engaging training in a variety of safety topics. She also helps expand access to lifesaving education as one of NDSC's Spanish-language instructors and interpreters. As an EMS volunteer, she's a master at the craft of teaching in the Emergency Care world.

"I loved the enthusiasm and knowledge of Aglae. This was the BEST course I've had."

25 YEARS
experience in safety

Tim Hall

Tim brings nearly three decades of mining experience, having worked in operations, supervision, engineering, maintenance and safety. As a certified MSHA instructor, he delivers training grounded in firsthand knowledge of the challenges miners face every day.

"I have taken this course 6 times now and Tim H.'s approach was by far the best!"

29 YEARS
experience in safety

Kacy Kirby

Kacy brings almost 20 years of safety experience, including leadership roles in manufacturing and oil and gas. His approachable training style combines real-world stories, technical knowledge and meaningful participant engagement.

"It exceeded my expectations. You made learning easy. And it helps to throw in a little humor, too!"

18 YEARS
experience in safety

Stacey Fick

Stacey has been delivering safety training since 2013, with expertise spanning OSHA requirements, SafeLand, confined space and emergency care. Her energetic, hands-on approach makes complex safety topics easier to understand while helping participants build confidence in their ability to respond safely.

"Best part of the class was that the instructor was informative and chill."

13 YEARS
experience in safety

Jesse Johnson

With more than 30 years of safety experience, Jesse brings a deep understanding of the high-risk environments and day-to-day challenges faced by oil and gas workers. His training connects safety requirements to real field situations, giving participants practical tools they can immediately apply on the job.

"The instructor was awesome and made the class very entertaining but also helped me retain a lot of knowledge."

35 YEARS
experience in safety

Real experience makes a real difference.

NDSC trainers bring decades of hands-on experience from North Dakota's most important industries into every course. They do more than explain safety requirements, they connect training to the work your employees perform every day. They understand the work, the risks and what it takes to build safer teams.
